

Emily couldn't believe her eyes.

Suddenly, it turned around and looked right at Jake.

The dog growled and ran towards her.

Everything just stopped.

The ball was heading straight for the goal, until...

The museum was closed but Kate had to find a way in.

Ella had a nightmare that she couldn't forget.

Martha looked on the floor and spotted a magic wand.

"Get out now!"
screamed Mrs. Fletcher.

The lights went out and everything went black.

Harry knew that something was wrong.

"But I don't want to go!"
screamed Thomas.

Callum's family had just disappeared,
right in front of his eyes.

Emma looked at her watch and saw that it had started to turn backwards.

My Olympic dream
had finally come true.

It had been the best day of her life.

It had been the worst day of her life.

"I don't believe it!"
shouted Mr. Sharp.

Sophia, Holly and Lily were the best of friends, until...

"We're going on a surprise holiday!"
shouted mum.

The box was full of secrets that had been hidden for centuries.

"Go on... it will be a piece of cake!" called Cara.

The remote control seemed to be controlling Daniel's parents!

The machine wouldn't turn off.

Dylan had a dream.

Ryan opened the cupboard and found something that he wasn't expecting to see.

Jessica had a secret.

"Why are you such a blabbermouth?"
I screamed.

Zac had been waiting for this day for a very long time.

Olivia couldn't believe that her wish had finally come true.

All of a sudden, the car lifted off the ground and rose into the air.

"What's that horrible noise?" asked Alfie.

Felix woke up after a wonderful night's sleep. But then, it all started to go wrong.

"If you don't do it, I won't be your friend any more," shouted Holly.

Max and Sam made a decision that they would regret by the end of the day.

The books started to fall from the shelves.

It was the most beautiful thing that Henry had ever seen.

My mum told me to look after my little brother.
I wished that I had now.

The cake looked tasty
but it smelt horrible.

James smiled when he saw his family.

Carefully, Alfie lifted the lid and looked inside.

"Go on... nothing can go wrong," called Charlotte.

The rhino looked right at Mia and started to charge.

No matter how much I thought about it, I couldn't make up my mind.

When Kian picked up the diamond, the alarms started to sound.

Luke's grandad wasn't like most granddads.

It had been the coldest winter that Elsie had ever experienced.

When Leo looked in the mirror, he realised that something had gone badly wrong.

"Call security NOW!"
shouted the receptionist.

Sooner or later, I knew that I would have to make the most important decision of my life.

"Let's play a game,"
said Jayden.

The plane turned and headed back to the airport.

"Happy Birthday Owen!
I can't believe you're 142 years old,"
exclaimed his mum.

"Ouch!"
shouted Freddie.

Noah's goldfish normally went round and round in the tank, but today it was acting strangely.

Will's mum had always told him not to do it...
but he couldn't resist one more go.

Luke loved squashing ants, but today the ants would get their revenge.

Harley never stopped talking, until he learnt a lesson that he would never forget.

The computer virus was taking over every machine in the town.

All of a sudden, the Internet just stopped.

"Cameron... this is your brother," said his mum.

Hannah was incredibly bored.

The town of Lighton was not like any other.

The creatures opened the door and peered at the children in class 5W.

The balloon ride was more exciting than Daisy could ever have imagined.

Dear Diary.
This could be the last time that I write...

The experiment didn't turn out quite how Leah had expected.

"Good morning!"
called Tim cheerfully.

The countdown had begun.

The footsteps got louder as they got closer and closer.

Amy had never been anywhere like this before.

"You can't make me go!"
screamed David.

The parcel had finally arrived and Archie couldn't wait to open it.

Seth's teddy had been with him since he was born. But this morning, it was nowhere to be found.

Hayden's phone rang many times that day, but he wasn't able to answer it.

The safe had already been opened by the time that Matthew had got there.

By the time Frankie got there, it was too late.

"You've got to be kidding!"
my mum exclaimed.

Jake's pet was making a strange sound and starting to froth at the mouth.

RUN!

I had been standing there for hours until...

Caitlin couldn't remember where she had left it.

Kyle couldn't believe his luck.

Rebecca's family had been acting strangely all day.

I was handcuffed and taken away from everybody that I knew and loved.

I'd won!
After all this time,
I'd finally won!

"Stop right there!" the policeman called out to me.

I was at the end of the 10 metre diving board when suddenly...

When I woke up this morning, I couldn't even remember my own name.

When Lucy opened the door, a shiver went down her spine.

Maisie usually loved doing her homework, but something was distracting her today.

It was the most beautiful sound that Anna had ever heard.

Harvey knew that he shouldn't have told anyone his password and now he didn't know what to do.

The TV turned on by itself and Blake looked over to see a message that he would never forget.

Joseph knew that he wasn't allowed to... but he couldn't resist.

Rory's shoes looked like any other pair, but they could do things that no other shoes could do.

The robot normally followed instructions perfectly, but today it seemed to have a mind of its own.

Edward had always known that he was different from other kids.

The envelope had arrived!

The door had always been locked, but Helen had just found the key.
