

A large rectangular area with rounded corners, containing ten horizontal lines for writing. The lines are evenly spaced and extend across most of the width of the page.